Activity Book

This Activity Book contains activity pages that accompany many of the lessons from the Teacher Guide for Unit 3. The activity pages are organized and numbered according to the lesson number and the order in which they are used within the lesson. For example, if there are two activity pages for Lesson 4, the first will be numbered 4.1 and the second 4.2. Some of the activity pages in this book do not include written instructions for students because the instructions would have words that are not decodable. Teachers will explain these activity pages to the students orally, using the instructions in the Teacher Guide. The Activity Book is a student component, which means each student should have an Activity Book.

Dear Family Member,

The spelling words for this week include “r-controlled vowels.” By itself, the letter ‘r’ is a spelling for a consonant sound, but the sound /r/ can pair with certain vowel sounds, creating unique vowel sounds like /er/, /ar/, and /or/. Please remember to practice the spelling words for a short time (five to ten minutes) each night.

Today your student is also bringing home a story to read, “A Letter from the Publisher,” and an accompanying activity page. This is the first story in the Unit 3 Reader, Kids Excel. Your student will read about kids excelling at all types of things, such as spelling, jumping rope, and playing soccer. After reading “A Letter from the Publisher,” have your student answer the story questions on the back of the activity page. Encourage your student to look back at the story to find the answers.

A Letter from the Publisher

Kids,

My name is Mark Deeds, and I have a fun job. I visit with kids who excel at what they do.

When you excel at something, you are good at it.

The kids I visit all excel at different things. Some of them excel at sports like running or jumping rope.

Some of them excel at math. Some of them excel at skipping rocks or standing on their hands. All of them are good at something.

I visit with the kids. I chat with them. I ask them how they got started doing what they do and how they got good at it. Sometimes I chat with their moms and dads, too. I jot down notes and take snapshots. Then I write up what they tell me so I can share it with you.

In Kids Excel you will meet a lot of kids who excel. I had fun meeting them. I think you will like meeting them, too.

When I meet someone who excels at something, it inspires me to be as good as I can be. I hope the kids in Kids Excel have the same effect on you, too!

The Spelling Bee

This past spring I went to see the state spelling bee.

The state spelling bee is a spelling contest that lasts two days. On Day 1, a bunch of kids sit down to take a written spelling test. On Day 2, the kids who do the best on the written test get up on a stage and spell.

One hundred ten kids took the spelling test last spring. The kids had to spell words like chimpanzee. The 50 who did the best on the written test went on to Day 2 of the spelling bee.

Day 2 is the part of the bee I like best. That's when the kids get up on stage and spell words out loud.

A person will say a word. Then the speller has to spell the word one letter at a time. If the speller spells the word without a mistake, they get to keep spelling. If the speller makes a mistake, a bell rings.

Ding!

Directions: Have your student read the story with a family member and discuss the story afterwards.

Once the bell rings, that is the end. The speller is out of the bee. He or she must sit down in a chair and look on while the rest of the spellers stay in the bee and keep spelling.

On Day 2 of the bee I sat and looked on as the bell rang for lots of kids in the bee.

Graying. G-r-a-i-n-g? Ding!

Sunday. S-u-n-n-d-a-y? Ding!

The bell went on ringing all day, until there were just three spellers left.

Carlos Lopez, age 12, was one of the three. He was the runner-up at the last spelling bee. Two of the experts I spoke with said they expected him to win the bee.

Amber Hunter, age 12, was still in the game, too. She had finished in fifth place at the last bee. The experts I spoke with said she had a good chance of winning.

Gail Day, age 11, was the dark horse. When I asked the spelling experts who she was, they just shrugged.

Amber Hunter was spelling well. Then she got a hard word. She stood thinking. She spelled the word as well as she could. She waited.

Ding!

Amber Hunter was out of the bee. That left just Gail Day and Carlos Lopez.

Dear Family Member,

The spelling words for this week include words with the tricky spellings ‘c’ and ‘g’. These letters are tricky because they can be sounded out in different ways. To hear the difference, say the words got and gem, cat and cents. Please remember to practice the spelling words for five to ten minutes each night.

Today your student is also bringing home a story to read, “Miss Baker,” and an accompanying activity page. This is another story in our Unit 3 Reader, Kids Excel. You may remember that Kids Excel is about kids who are outstanding in different ways. Miss Baker is a teacher who helps a young girl become a good speller. After reading “Miss Baker,” have your student answer the story questions on the accompanying activity page. You should encourage your student to look back at the story to find the answers.

Miss Baker

I was sitting with spelling champ Gail Day.

I asked her, “How did this Miss Baker make you into a good speller?”

“Well,” said Gail, “Miss Baker had a cool way of explaining English spelling. She made spelling trees.”

“Spelling trees?”

“Yes,” said Gail. “Here, I’ll make one for you.”

Gail got a sheet of paper and made a tree.

She pointed at the trunk of the tree and explained, “The trunk stands for a sound, like the sound /aē/ as in cake. The branches stand for the spellings for that sound. There’s one branch for words that have the ‘a_e’ spelling like flame and stake. There’s one branch for words that have the ‘ay’ spelling like play and stay. There’s one branch for words that have the ‘ai’ spelling like pain and train. And so on. Get it?”

“Got it.”

“So Miss Baker would make a big spelling tree for a sound. Then we kids would add words to it. When we found words with the sound in them we would stick the words on the branches of the tree. We would stick all of the words with the ‘ai’ spelling on this branch. We would stick all of the words with the ‘ay’ spelling on that branch.”

“I see. And this helped you get better at spelling?”

Gail nodded.

“The spelling trees helped us see the patterns and keep track of the spellings. They helped us see which spellings are used a lot and which ones are used less. There were a lot of good spellers in Miss Baker’s class.”

“But not all of them went on to win the state spelling bee,” I said. “Why did you?”

Gail shrugged.

“I was good at spelling. But I did not understand why English spelling was so hard. Once I asked Miss Baker why it was so hard. ‘Miss Baker,’ I said, ‘why are there five or six spellings for some sounds? That makes no sense. Why isn’t there just one spelling for a sound?’”

Miss Baker explained as much as she could. Then she gave me a book on spelling. It was a cool book. It explained how English has taken in lots of spellings from French, Latin, Greek, and Spanish. When I finished that book, Miss Baker gave me a longer book. Then I found the next book by myself. One book sort of led to the next. So that’s how I got started.”

Directions: Have students use the words in the box to fill in the chart.

The Swimming Sisters

Kim and Val Castro are swimming sisters.

Kim is sixteen. Val is fifteen. The sisters swim for the Red River Swim Program (RRSP). Both of them are fast. In fact, they are two of the fastest swimmers in the state.

I went to see the two sisters at the pool where they swim. They were training for a big meet.

“So,” I said, “do I dare ask which of you is faster?”

Kim smiled. “I am faster in the sprints,” she said. “But Val is faster in the long races.”

“So what counts as a sprint in swimming?”

“The 50 Free is a sprint,” said Kim.

“50?” I said. “Is that 50 feet?”

“No,” said Kim, “it’s 50 yards.”

“Gosh!” I said. “50 yards? That’s a sprint? It sounds long to me! You see, I am not much of a swimmer.”

“The 50 Free is an all-out sprint,” Kim said. “It’s like the hundred yard dash in track. It’s over in a flash. The 100 Free is a sprint, too.”

“So what counts as a long race in swimming?”

“The 500 Free is a long race,” Kim groaned. “It’s too long for me. I start to get tired after 150 yards or so. But not Val! The longer the race is, the better she is.”

“The 500 Free is my best race!” said Val.

“500 yards?” I said. “What’s that, a hundred laps?”

“Um, no,” Val said. “In a 25-yard pool, it’s up and back ten times.”

I jotted notes in my notebook.

“So let’s see,” I said. “100 yards counts as a short race. Kim is good at the short races. 500 yards is a long race. Val is good at the long races. Is there a race that is longer than 100 yards and shorter than 500?”

“Yes, there is,” said Kim. “The 200 Free.”

“So which of you speedsters wins that race?” I asked.

Kim looked at Val. She had a smile on her face. It was a sister-to-sister smile, and there was something else in it. There was a sort of challenge in the look.

Val smiled back. She had the same look on her face.

I waited.

At last Kim spoke. “It’s hard to say who is faster in the 200 Free. Sometimes Val wins and sometimes I win.”

“I see,” I said. “It sounds like the 200 Free is the race to see. When will that race take place?”

“It will be on Sunday,” said Val, “the last day of the state meet.”

I got out my pen and wrote: “Sunday the 25th. 200 Free. Castro versus Castro!”

The Big Race

I got to the pool in time for the 200 Free. I sat in the stands with Grover and Joan Castro, Kim and Val's parents.

"I am so proud of Kim and Val," said Grover Castro. "But I have a bad case of nerves. I hate it when the two of them swim in the same race. They have both been training so hard. They would both like to win this race. But they can't both win. I don't like to think that one of them may be upset."

A man's booming voice filled the air. "It's time for the last race of the meet!" the man said.

"Let's meet our swimmers!" The man started listing the swimmers in the race.

"In Lane 2," he said, "from Red River Swim Program, we have the winner of the 500 Free, Val Castro." Cheers rose up from the RRSP swimmers on the deck and from fans in the stands.

"In Lane 3," the man said, "from Red River Swim Program, the winner of the 50 and 100 Free, Kim Castro." There were shouts and cheers for Kim, as well.

The swimmers got up on the starting blocks.

A man in a white coat said, "Swimmers, take your marks." The swimmers bent down and grabbed the starting blocks.

Then there was a beep. The swimmers shot off. Kim's start was perfect. She did her kick. Then she popped up and started swimming. Her arms went so fast. She seemed to be coasting.

Kim was the fastest swimmer for a hundred yards. She made a big wave. The rest of the swimmers were trailing her. They seemed to be bouncing and sloshing in Kim's waves.

I was starting to think it would not be such a close race after all. But just as I was thinking this, Grover Castro said, "Wait for it!"

"Wait for what?" I said.

"You'll see!" said Grover.

I looked back at the pool. Kim was still winning. But Val was closing in on her. The gap was five feet. Then it was three.

The swimmers flipped one last time. Kim was starting to look a bit tired. The gap was down to two feet. Then it was one foot. Then the two sisters were swimming side by side. As they came to the finish line it was too close to pick a winner. Kim and Val smacked the side of the pool at what looked to be the same moment.

A hundred parents in the stands looked up at the clock. A hundred swimmers on the deck looked up as well.

This is what the clock said:

Val Castro	Lane 2	1:45
Kim Castro	Lane 3	1:46

Val was the winner!

Dear Family Member,

Our spelling words this week are antonyms and synonyms. Antonyms are words that mean the opposite. For example, cold is an antonym of hot. Synonyms are words that have almost the same meaning. Cool is a synonym for cold. You can practice with your student in this way: say the italicized word and ask your student to think of the word that is a synonym or antonym for that word and write it down. For example:

You say, "Write the antonym for over." Then your student should say and then write the word under on paper. Remember, in addition to practicing spelling words, it is a great benefit for students to read at least 20 minutes every night.

The Big Storm

Last winter, we got stuck in a big ice storm. The sleet started to come down at noon. When Mom and Dad picked me up at three, sleet was on the ground and on the roads.

We started to drive home. That was when things got exciting. The sleet started coming down harder and harder. It got deeper and deeper. The car started slipping and sliding. I was scared. Dad had to creep along and so did lots of other cars. Then, the cars stopped and there was a big traffic jam. Mom got out and looked down the road to see if cars were moving at all. No one was moving!

We had just passed the road to my granddad's house. Mom called my granddad and asked if we could come and visit. He said we could. So Dad drove to my granddad's house. It took us a long time to get there. There was so much ice that we couldn't see the road! We ended up sleeping at my granddad's house and waiting until the state trucks came and plowed the roads. We had fun being iced in!

Cupcakes with Mom

Last week, I made cupcakes with Mom. We went to the shop to pick up the items we needed for the cupcakes. We got frosting and cake mix. We got cooking oil and eggs.

When we got home, we unpacked our bags and switched on the oven. Mom got out a mixing dish and a spoon. I dumped the cake mix in the dish. Mom let me add the oil and two eggs. I mixed everything together. Mom added paper liners to the cupcake pan. Then I got a spoon and scooped the batter into the cupcake liners. Mom set the timer for the cupcakes to bake in the oven.

Waiting for the cupcakes to cook was the hardest part. It took so long! I kept checking on the cupcakes. At last, the timer started beeping. I jumped up and down and shouted, “Cupcakes! Cupcakes!” Mom got mitts and pulled out the hot pan. The sweet smell of fresh baked cupcakes filled the kitchen. Mom and I put sweet, pink frosting on the cupcakes. I got frosting on my fingers and licked it off. Then Mom and I each chose a cupcake to eat. Yum, yum! Those were the best cupcakes!

Dear Family Member,

This week we will be writing personal narratives. Students will go through the entire writing process, from planning to editing. We will begin with writing a class narrative and then the students will write their own narrative with a partner.

We will finish our current reading unit this Friday and will have several assessments to make sure students have learned the skills in this unit.

For this reason, your student will not have spelling words or a test this week. Students will have homework each night to prepare them for the unit assessments. As this is review work, they should be able to complete the homework independently. Please assist your student in completing the homework only if necessary.

Continue to read with your student each night. You will be surprised by how fast your student will progress if he or she reads aloud to you 20 minutes every night. Be aware that this reading does not have to be a book; it can be labels of cans that you have in the cupboard or cereal boxes or comics! Nor does the reading have to take place at home; it can take place in the car or standing in line at the grocery store.

As always, if you have questions, feel free to contact me. When home and school work together as a team, your student wins!

Take-Home

Dear Family Member,

Our class has been working on writing personal narratives at school. Your student has read personal narratives, and we have drafted a personal narrative as a class. Now, each student will have an opportunity to write his or her own personal narrative describing something that happened to him or her. As homework, please work with your student to brainstorm ideas that he or she might write about in a personal narrative. Remind your student that the personal narrative is nonfiction; it should tell about something that really happened to him or her. Here are some ideas for topics your student might be interested in writing about:

- a special holiday or birthday
- a special present they received
- something a friend or sibling did for them
- a special visit or a trip to an interesting place
- a “first” or significant personal achievement
- a weather-related event

Have your student jot down ideas on the back of this page and bring it back to school for the next Writing lesson.

Jo, of the Inuit, has a home not so far from the North Pole. While her dad hunts, her home is an igloo. It is made from solid ice blocks. You may not think it, but her home is snug inside. Jo's dad keeps a fire going inside the ice home. There is a hole in the roof to let the smoke from the fire escape.

It is freezing at the North Pole. There are lots of frozen slabs of ice. The wind tosses things around as it swoops down from the Pole. If you go to visit Jo, take lots of thick clothing. Take an overcoat and a scarf. Take boots, too. If you don't, you could end up with frozen toes.

Mike nodded and his sobs went away. He was quiet as he and his dad tried to find the hippos. Once they found them, Mike started smiling and chatting with his dad.
